About Vintage Vibes

Vintage Vibes is a charity partnership based in Edinburgh that works to tackle isolation and loneliness in the over 60s. One of our working principles is that we love to build others up, which means that we will be keen to help you with training and skills development that matches your interests and ambitions. Alongside an induction we will support you to develop your skills and access training to stretch and strengthen your abilities.

We would love for you to come and see us face to face a minimum of once a month, and are happy for you to volunteer from our offices whenever you like.
