post pandemic

The Health and Wellbeing team within Volunteer Edinburgh has been delivered for 35 years and has supported people who experience the greatest health inequalities to become active volunteers in their community.

Our team's efforts focussed on supporting all clients, whether they were able to continue volunteering or not. Throughout the period of lockdown and during the months that followed, our Health and Wellbeing staff provided responsive and ongoing welfare support to current and historic caseloads, whilst supporting volunteer involving organisations (VIOs).
